INSIDE THIS ISSUE:

Principal's Message

One of the memories I have from my elementary school days from May is the School Fair when the whole field was turned into a mini-fairground of simple stalls and games such as 'Hook the Fish', 'Shoot the Duck' and best of all, 'Dunk the Teacher.' For a couple of years I was on the Maypole dance team and loved the intricate dance moves that created a colourful weave of ribbon. What a marvel it is to live in a small village deep in the Kootenays where elementary students still learn to dance around a Maypole. Traditions are vital to pass on to our young people. The world changes so fast that it is good to have these events that remind us of who we are, who we are connected to and how we are connected to the seasons for our food. Thank you to Shelley Thring who has been working with our students over the last month so that they can be part of tradition this year at May Days.

Dress Code

As the temperatures begin to treat us to a taste of summer, students need to be reminded of the meaning behind 'appropriate clothing for school' in our Code of Conduct:

- Any clothing with suggestive, discriminatory or hateful slogans or graphics (including but not limited to reference to swearing, drugs, sex or alcohol) is not acceptable in the school setting
- Students should come to school in clothes that fully cover their torso (no tops showing bra straps, bellies, or cleavage)
- Pants/shorts/skirts that cover undergarments
- Footwear for wearing outside in PE class and recess /lunchtimes

These requirements are for all our students and indeed our staff too. Students will be asked to change, provided with a piece of clothing or parents telephoned to bring alternate clothing should a student arrive at school wearing clothing that is considered inappropriate.

The school thanks you for your cooperation.
