

StrongStart Update

Southern Zone Outreach

With the lifting of restrictions all three sites have seen an increase in participants. Parents are very thankful for a place to come and gather with their children. There is almost a party attitude now as spring is upon us. There have been lots of Easter Crafts the past couple of weeks, and even a few dyed eggs.

Eastern Zone StrongStart

This is a wonderful time of the year for parents to visit strongstart at Lucerne. The weather has begun to warm and the snow is gone, so we are heading outside more and playing in the sand box and riding scooters around the tennis court. Attendance has been strong and we are seeing a few new families start to turn up on a regular basis. Yesterday we had Casey Law down to do a presentation on how to notice signs of choking and how to respond.

Nakusp StrongStart

We are eagerly awaiting the opening of the strongstart centre at NES. It seems like it should be ready very soon. In the mean time we have been doing outreach for families, and for Easter we sent out care packages to families. This was much appreciated, and parents let us know that they can't wait to be in the building.
